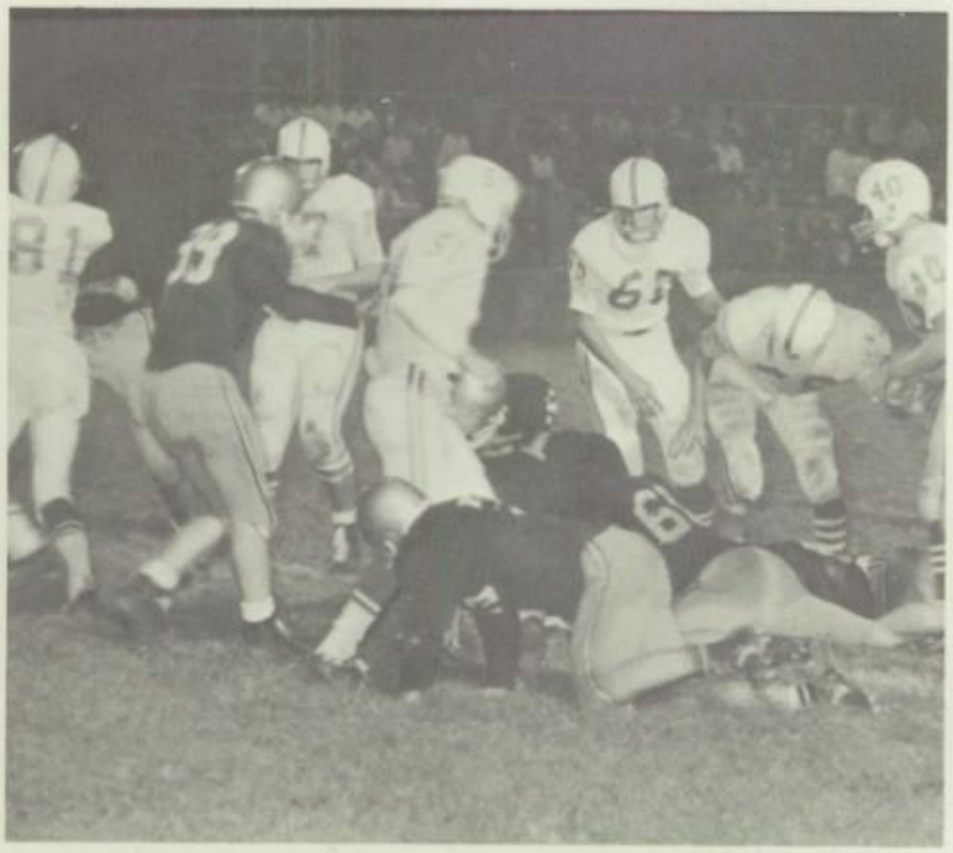
Football, T.C.H.S. Style, Brings 8-2 Season



Tell City provides stiff defense during their '68-'69 season.

The Marksmen opened their 1968 football season by defeating Jasper 7-6. The combination of Dave Mahoney and Mike Malone proved deadly for the Wildcats, just as it did for other squads who fell to the Big Red.

The Marksmen dropped only 2 games in the '68 season. The Providence Pioneers clipped the Marksmen's winning streak at five games by defeating them 6-3. A highly rated Vincennes team stunned the Big Red with a 21-14 blow.

The Marksmen were co-champions in the SIAC this season with North Knox. Both the Big Red and the North Knox Warriors were 5-0 in conference play.

Anxious varsity team members wait for Mr. Talley's signal for the next play during a tense grid squad game.

Every game has its ups and downs, especially football!

The opening games proved successful as the Marksmen zipped by the Jasper Wlidcats.

Marksman Grid Squad Shares S.I.A.C. Championship

Teamwork helped Greg Noland, Jr., make a terrific play for yardage for the Tell City Marksmen.

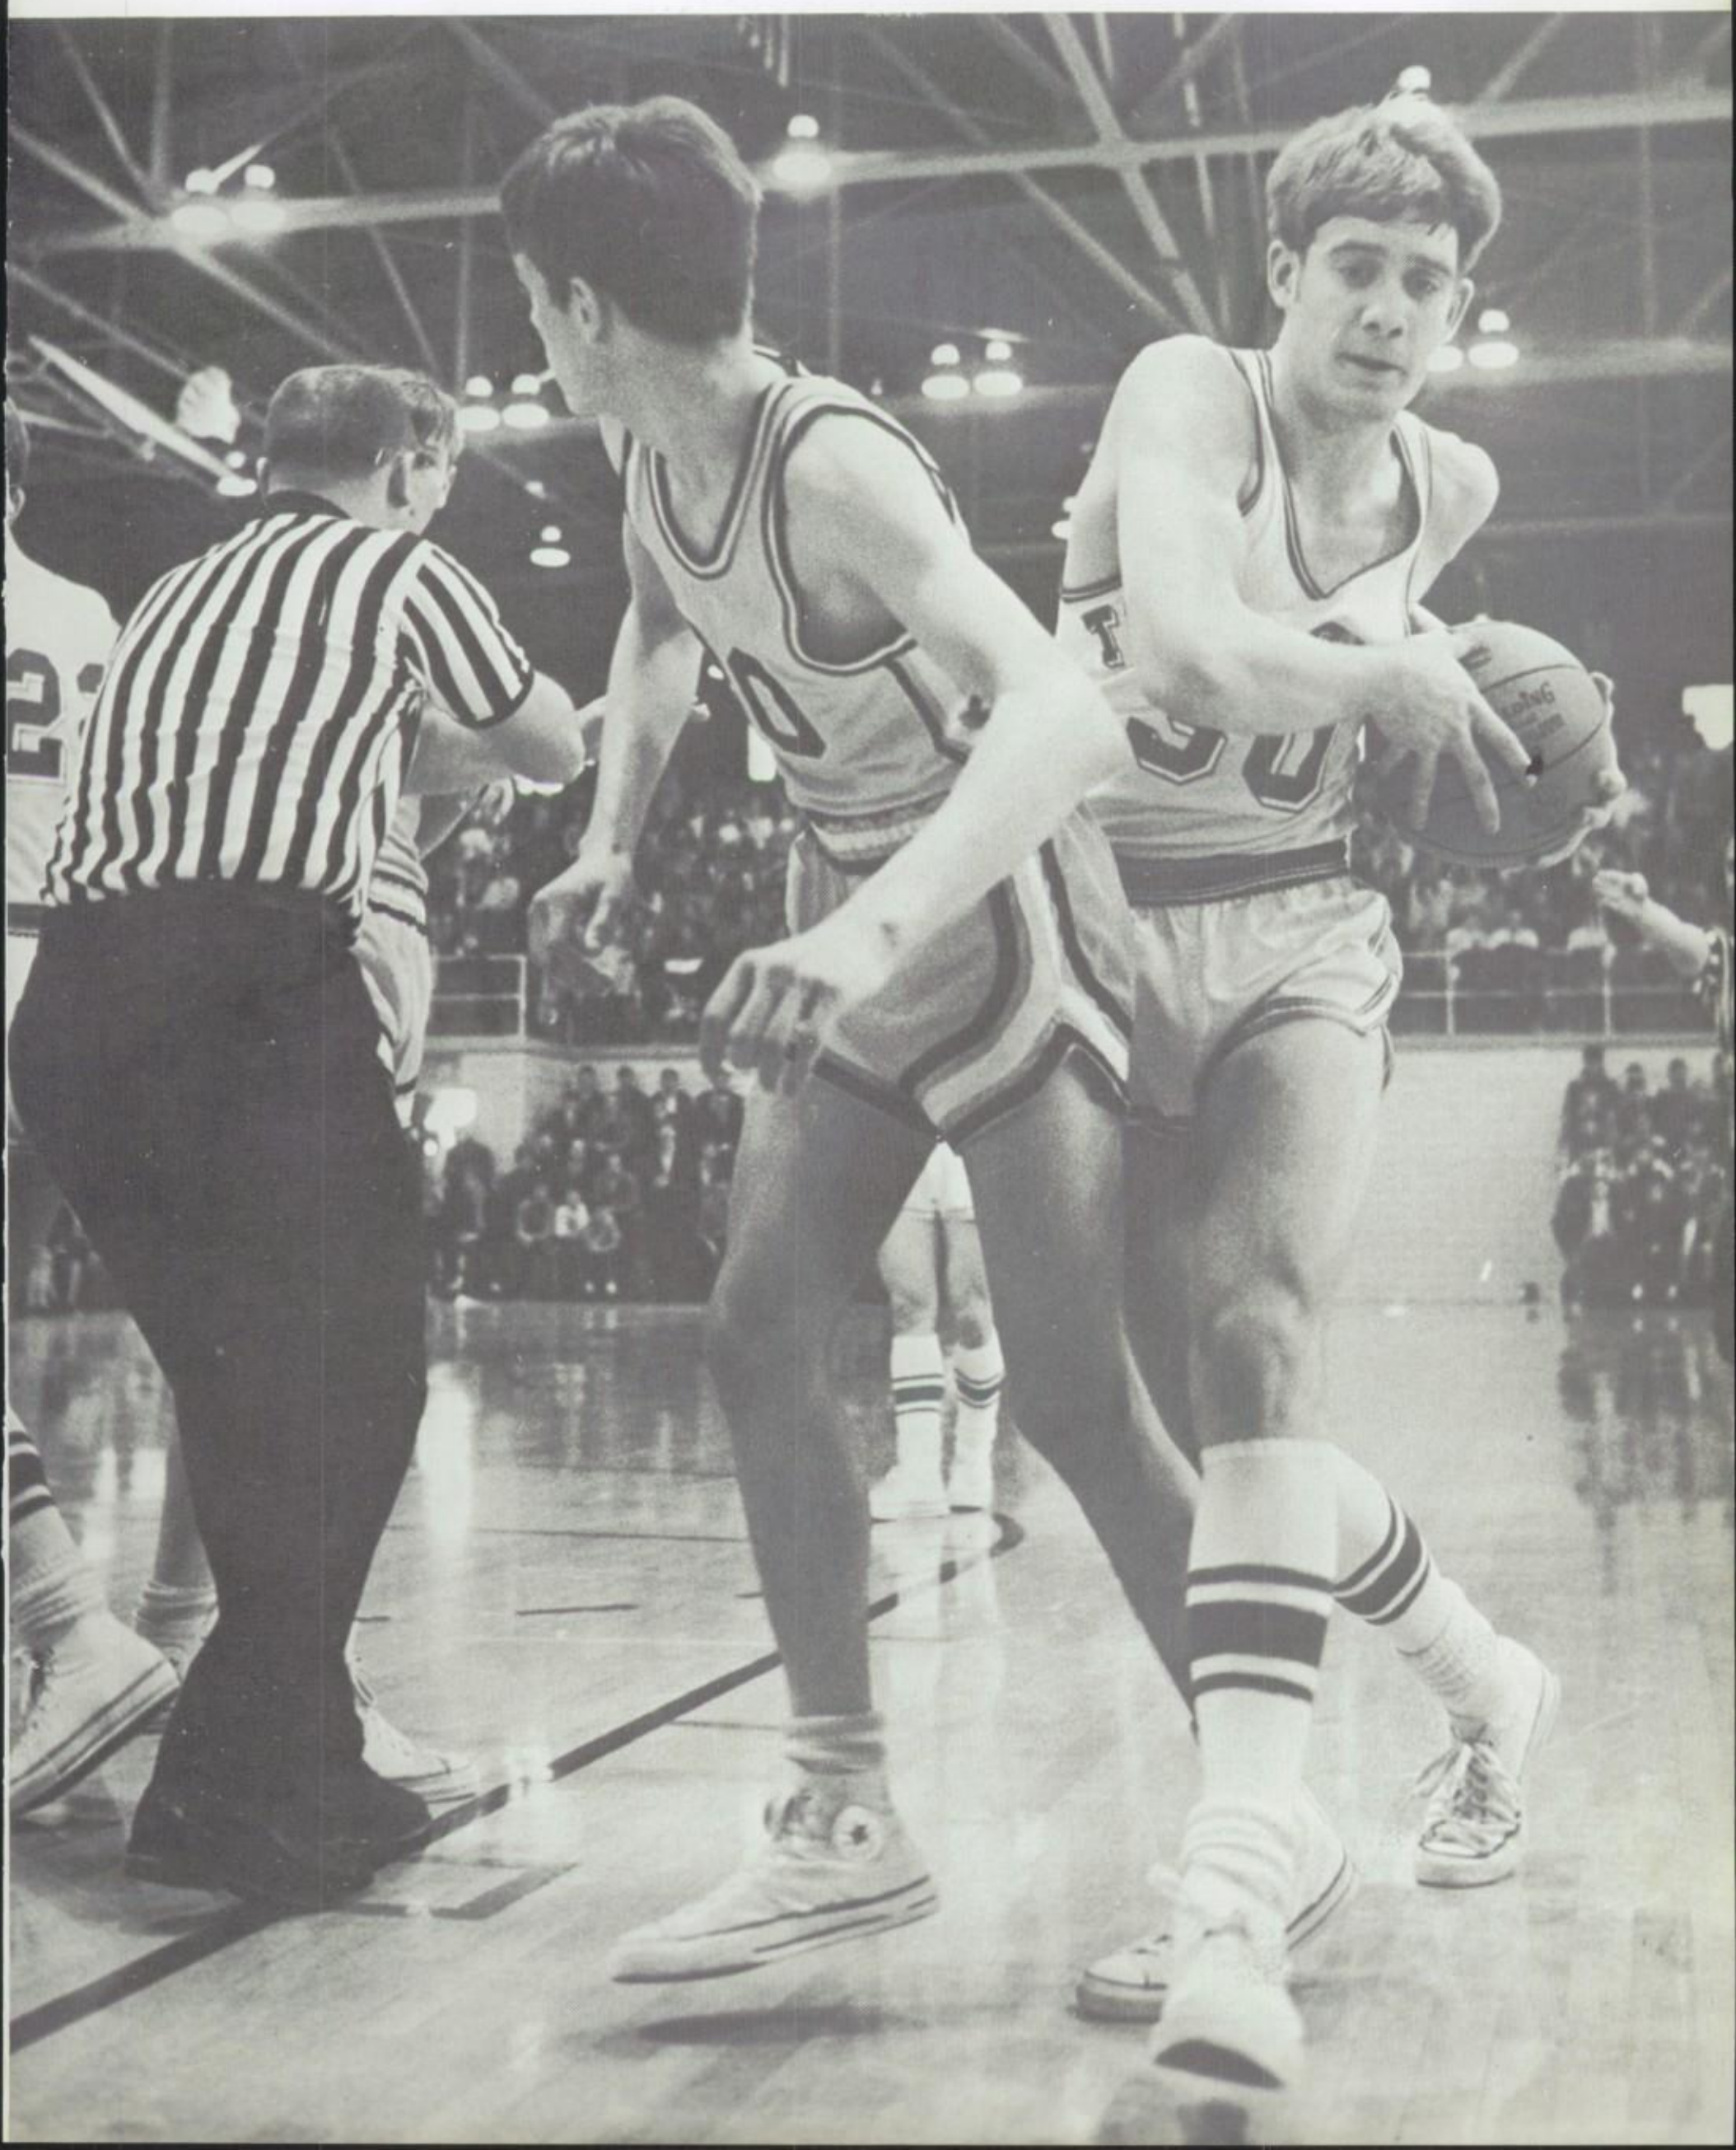
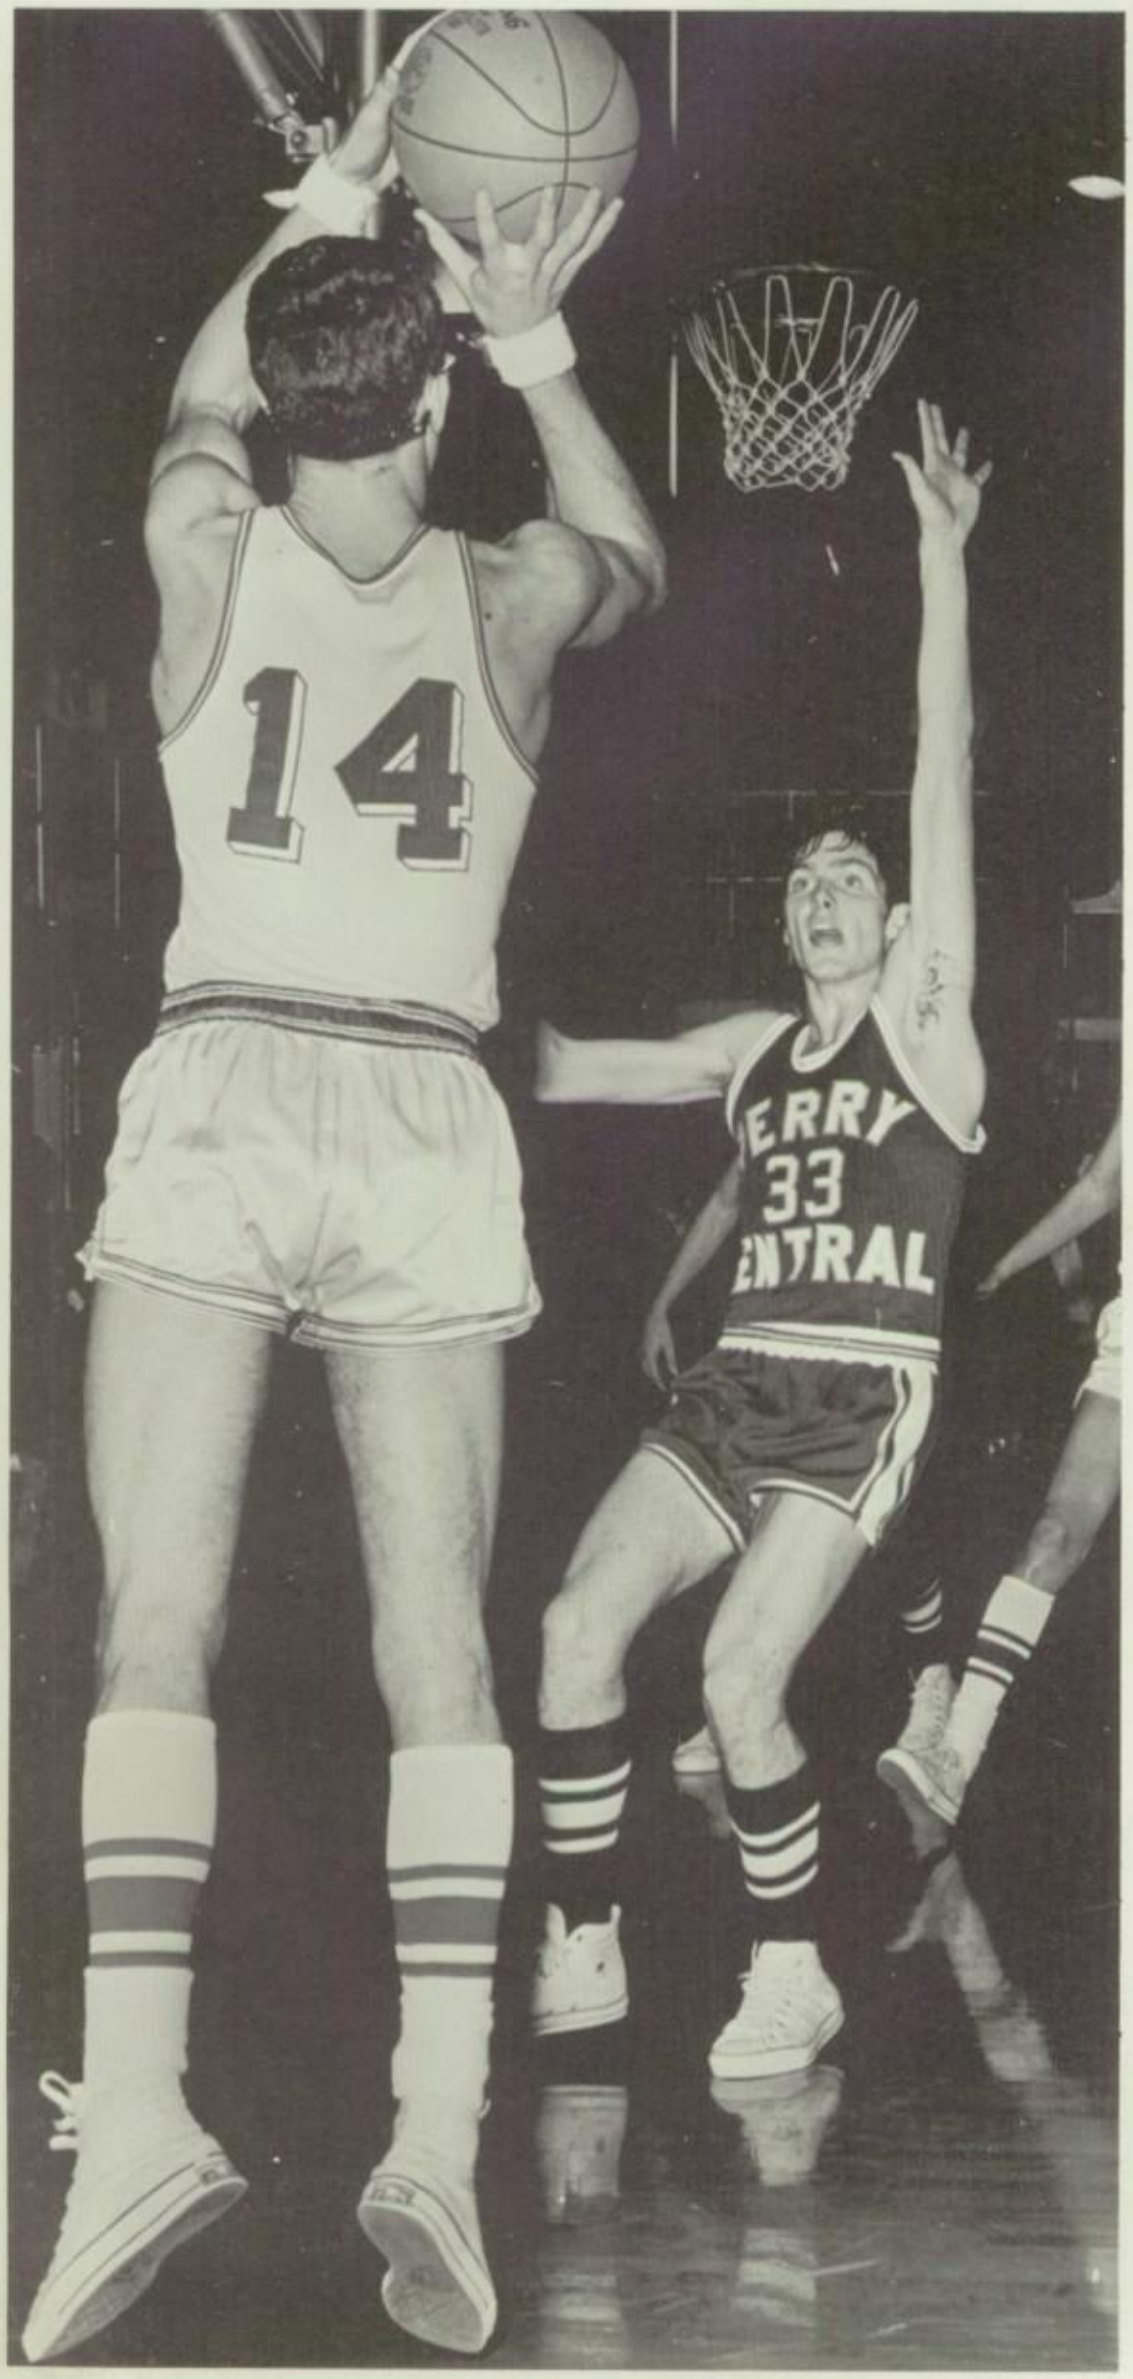
The Big Red Varsity sported new warmups for the '68-'69 basketball season.

Sectional Victory—How Sweet It Is!



In Victory, Defeat Marksmen Show



The Marksmen opened the 1968-69 basketball season by defeating the Cannelton Bulldogs 68-48. The Big Red went on to finish the year with a 17 and 7 record. This is the best season Coach Robert Lochmueller has had in his 4 years at TCHS.

After defeating Cannelton, the Big Red went on to beat Bosse 62-61. Then the varsity hit a dry spell and lost their next three games to North, Ferdinand, and Ft. Branch. After losing three in a row, the Marksmen went on to win 15 of their next 19 games.

The Beg Red won the sectional by defeating Milltown, Cannelton, and Perry Central. To win the sectional, Fred Werner hit a 50 foot shot in the last seconds of play to advance the Marksmen to the Regional. At the regional Tell City almost pulled an upset over favored Evansville Rex Mundi, but in the closing minutes the Monarchs surged ahead and won 62-56.

Girls on the T.C.H.S. Athletic Scene

Every morning the Freshmen girls begin their gym class with calisthenics which are supposed to give them more pep.

These Freshmen girls jump excitedly to win their game of volleyball.

Among other activities, the Freshmen girls play softball too. Valerie Mills awaits the next pitch.

While a member of the Varsity baseball team is up to bat, the other players hope for that big hit. Hitting paid off in a double header victory over New Albany.

Hitting and Hurling Marksmen

The John F. Kennedy Field took on a new look this season with the appearance of two bat girls. Juniors Sherlyn Flaherty and Rachel Lagrange assisted the team during their home games.

Tell City baseball players get ready for their warm-ups and a lot of action in their game against the Castle Knights, an S.I.A.C. foe.

"Oklahoma," '69 Musical, Is a Success

Laurey, played by Lisa Lawalin, sings to Curly, played by Bruce Riddle, in the first act of "Oklahoma." These two Juniors played the lead parts in the 1969 Musical.

Sylvie and Cord Elam, played by Susan Bruce Jr. and Richard Northerner Sr., enjoy a square dance. Cord Elam was the Sheriff of "Oklahoma."

Ado Annie, played by Sharilyn Flaherty, and the Persian Peddler, played by Parvin Price, looks on as Ado Annies' gun happy father, played by Bill Walk, tries to persuade the Peddler to marry Annie.

The Boys' Barbershop Quartet consisting of Jim Stephens, Russell Crossley, Gene Rogier, and Steve Williams sang "Lone Prairie."

Jimmie, Russell, and Lisa also entertained the audience with the selections; "Sound of Silence" and "When I Die."

Tell Town Capers Rings With Music

The Girls' Chorus was a big attraction at the Tell Town Capers which was presented on Friday evening, May 16. The girls sang such favorites as "Born Free," and "See You in September."

A special guest lecturer came to the Spanish classes and presented an informed speech on his home country, Panama. All questions by the students were in Spanish, of course!!

Jean Partusch Crowned '69 Jr.-Sr. Prom Queen

Miss Jean Partusch, Sr., escorted by Gary Lohoff, received a dozen yellow roses from Miss Sarah Anderson, junior class president, as she was announced the 1969 Jr.-Sr. Prom Queen. Miss Martha Evrard, Sr., was the first runner-up.

Saturday evening, May 3, marked the date for the magic event all upperclassmen yearn for. The prom theme "Roman Holiday" was carried out in every particular. Fifteen white pillars surrounded the dance floor with blue and gold streamers forming the skyline. Sprays of yellow and green garland surrounded the pillars and balustrades to add to the Romanesque effect.

A huge ten foot pool with a rotating spray was the center of attraction on the dance floor. A blue ray of light shown on the water which was covered by a wide assortment of flowers.

The ushers and usherettes were dressed in the traditional Roman toga and greeted the couples as they entered the world of "Roman Holiday."

Jean sheds a tear of happiness as she dances the first dance following her crowning.

The armory was a bee hive of activity as prom couples and Roman servants went about their activities as the "Roman Holiday" became a reality among the pillars, streamers, and pool which were provided by the Class of 1970.

Junior Carnival

The 1968 Junior Carnival was the most profitable held at Tell City High School. The Junior Class cleared $1,500 from the festive occasion.

The old tradition of having just junior queen candidates was broken. One girl was elected from each class. A profit of $501.00 was collected from the election voting. Miss Toni Peak, Jr., was crowned Queen of the Junior Carnival.

Another new feature of the carnival was the Mardi Gras. The booths in the Mardis Gras were: "Bust My Buttons," "Chuck-a-luck," "Baseball Throw," "Horse Race" and the "Prize." The biggest attraction was the "Tonight Show." Johnny Carson was played by Denny Nugent, the movie actress Zsa Zsa Gabore was portrayed by Brenda Hassler, and Byron Alvey performed as Tiny Tim.

The "Steel Head Band" from Evansville was the band with the soul sound at the Junior Carnival dance.

The newest fads in fashionable clothes at the Junior Carnival Strip Show are called, "Public Exposure."

Mighty Success

Frilly skirts and long hair have never made a lovelier pair as Tiny Tim (Byron Alvey) and Zsa Zsa Gabore (Brenda Hassler) are pronounced man and wife by their preacher Johnny Carson (Dennis Nugent) at the Jr. Carnival Tonight Show.

This isn't an advertisement for makeup. The Spook Show of the Jr. Carnival presents the friendliest gobblins ever seen in the dungeons of Tell City High School.

Journalists Report Marksman Beat

The "Marskman" became a bi-weekly newspaper this year. This was a major change from last year's monthly publication. The two classes, first and fourth periods, made up the two distinct staffs which took turns putting out the paper.

More extensive advertising was utilized to take care of the extra expenses for the bi-weekly publication.

The 1968-69 Sagittarius presented color pictures this year for the first time. More pages, more pictures, and less advertising space all combined for extensive coverage of the 1968-69 school year.

All Journalism students staged an intensive subscription drive for the yearbook and newspaper for a record number of subscribers.

There were also two students from each class; Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen who were members of the yearbook staff. They helped arrange and organize the underclass sections and helped to get items of interest for the underclassmen in the yearbook.

The first and fourth period editors of the "Marksman" are Becky Schneider, Susan Watts, Mr. McCartin, sponsor, Vicki Hagedorn, and Judy Strahl.

Some students in the fourth period Journalism class concentrate on their work, others cut up in class while preparing copy and stories for the next deadline of the "Marksman."

Mr. Dougan, owner and operator of the Swiss Studio in Tell City, spent much time in taking and developing pictures for this yearbook.

"Marksman" Becomes Bi-Weekly

Honest people, T.C.H.S. students don't usually dress this way! "The Marksman" distribution days are always hectic, but especially on Shirt-tail Day before the Tell City Sectional.

Basketball Queen

On Friday night February 24, 1969 the T.C.H.S. Basketball Queen was crowned. Miss Betty Leclere, Sr., was crowned by her escort Stanley Austin.

The entire student body had an opportunity to select the queen by secret ballot. There were four senior candidates and an attendant representing each class.

Bowling Club Action

Mary Jane Owen gives a very bewildering look as her bowling ball goes into the gutter.

Denny Nugent, Jr., sings a song with the members of the "Up With People" group which was a big attraction at the bowling convocation.

What would a bowling convocation be without Mr. Talley and his tumblers?

Russell Crossley also got in the action by leading the "Up With People" group in a real swinging tune which had the entire student body and a few teachers singing along.

These are just a few of the amusing incidents that go on while the kids await their turn to bowl.

These anxious bowlers seem to be having a pretty good game.

Academics

Business Education Dept.

Practice Was Master

The girls in the sixth period office practice class learn the procedures of a business office from Mr. Cassidy.

Senior Mary Kleaving concentrates as she makes an attempt at untangling an exercise in her shorthand text book.

Home Economics Dept.

Future Homemakers Learn Skills

Home Ec. girls ponder another assignment in originality.

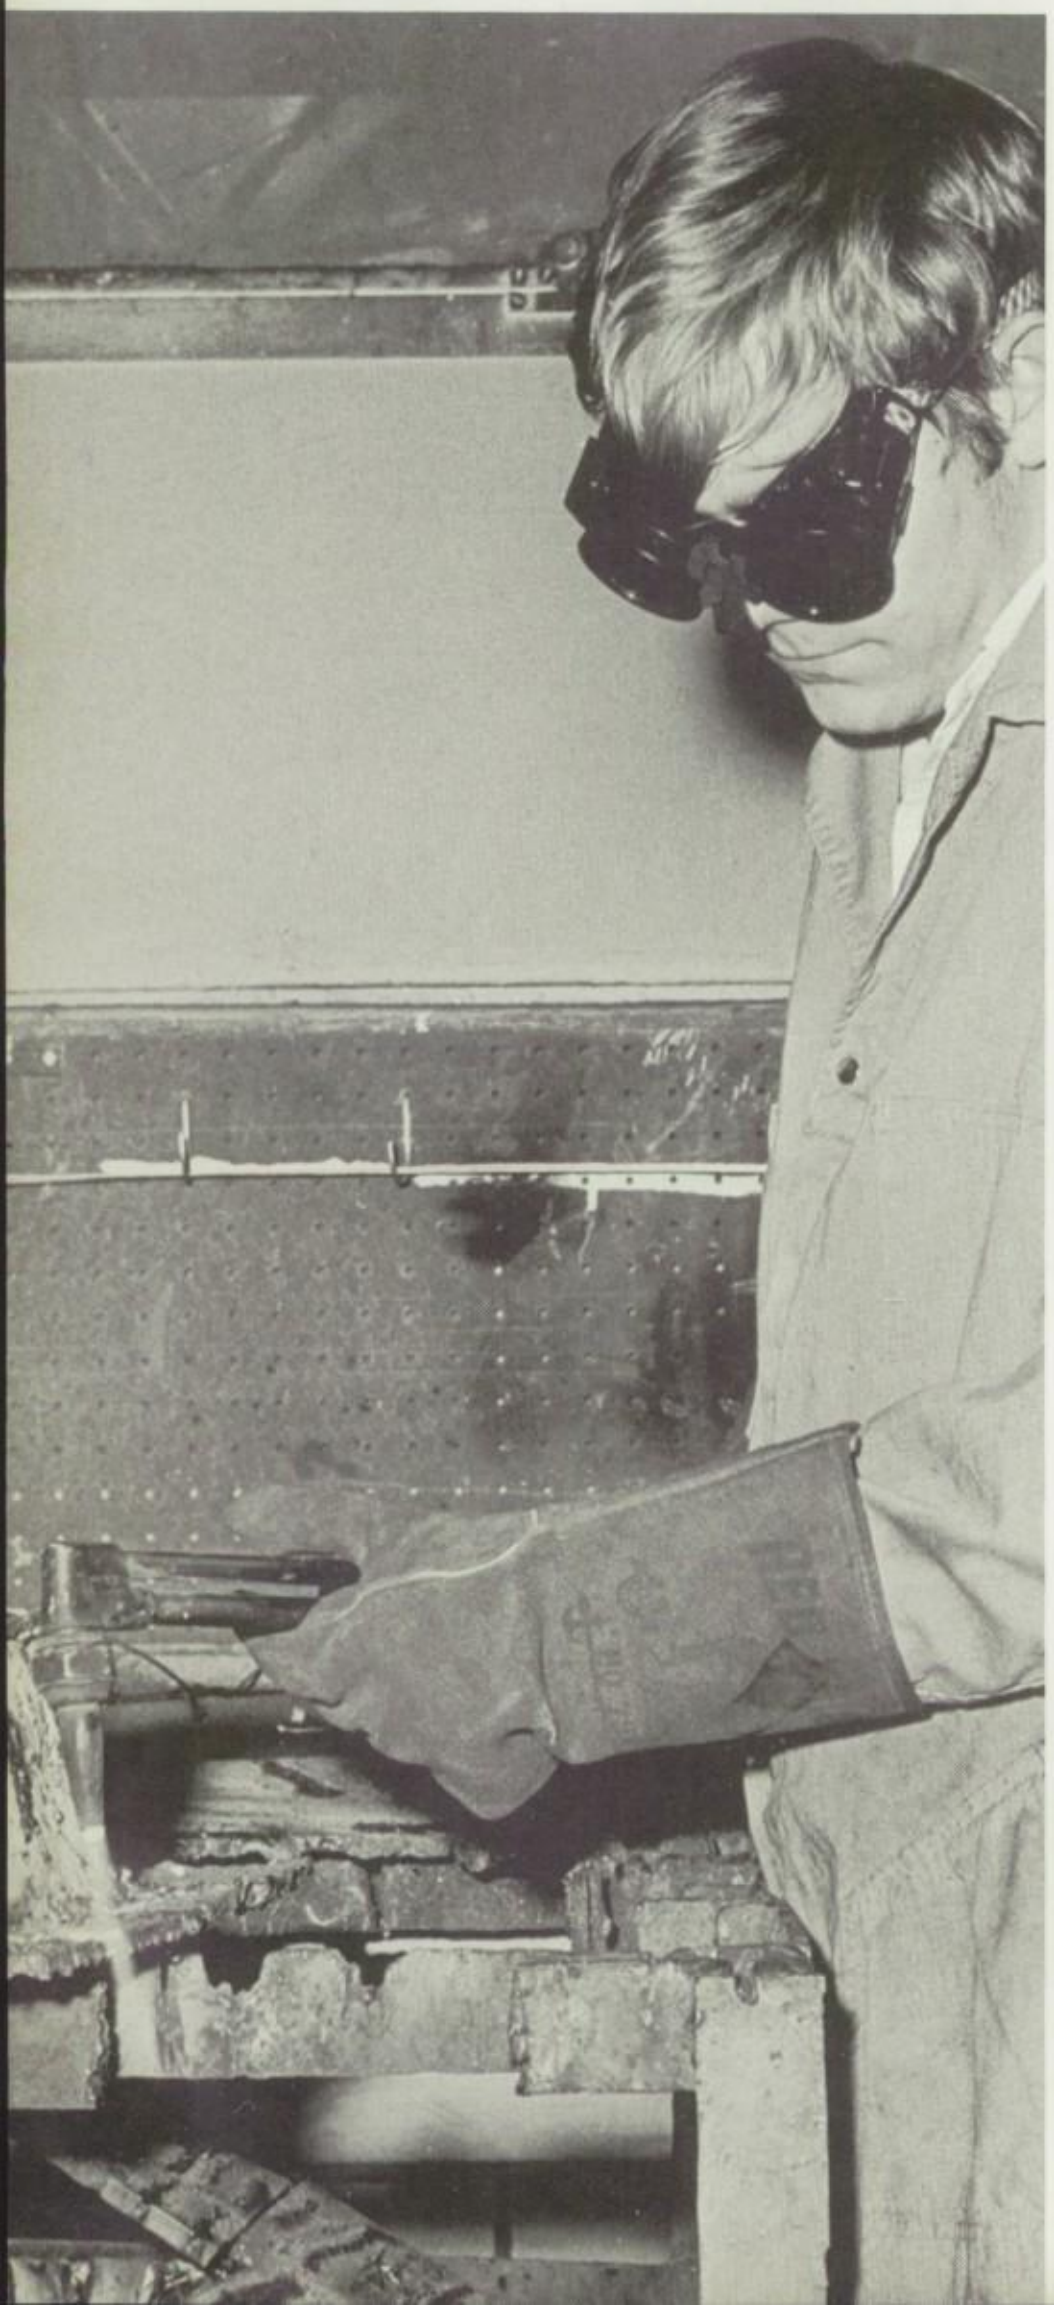
The T.C.H.S. homemakers show off their latest creations in dressmaking. They may not be Paris originals, but the girls are proud of the work and effort devoted to the formation of their own "originals."

Joyce Hirsch works on a candle holder which the girls worked on as a class project.

Flower arrangements made by the industrious Home Ec. girls are on display to show the wide range of activities which go on in those rooms where male students fear to tread.

Industrial Arts Dept.

Vocational Aspirations Nurtured



Vocational Classes at Tell City High School took on a new look this year by making everything from Grandfather Clocks to making girl's purses.

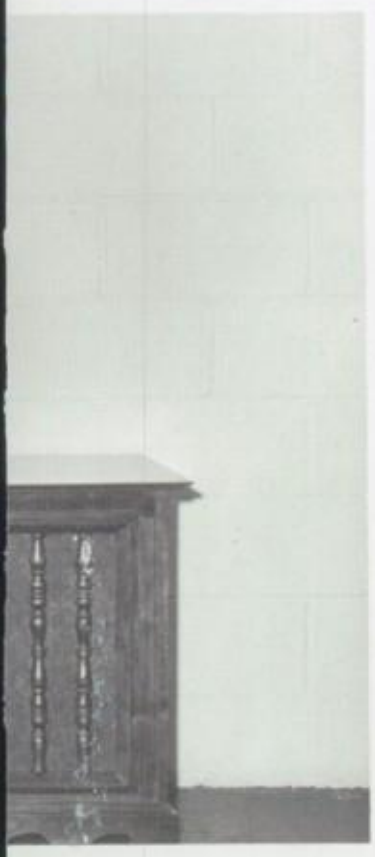
The Vocational Classes offered at TCHS are: Gen. Wood, Gen. Metal, Pr. Mech., Adv. Wood, Adv. Metal, Crafts, Mech. Drawing, and Electronics. The following teachers are the instructors of the vocational program; Mr. Dyer, Mr. Henry, and Mr. Hauser.

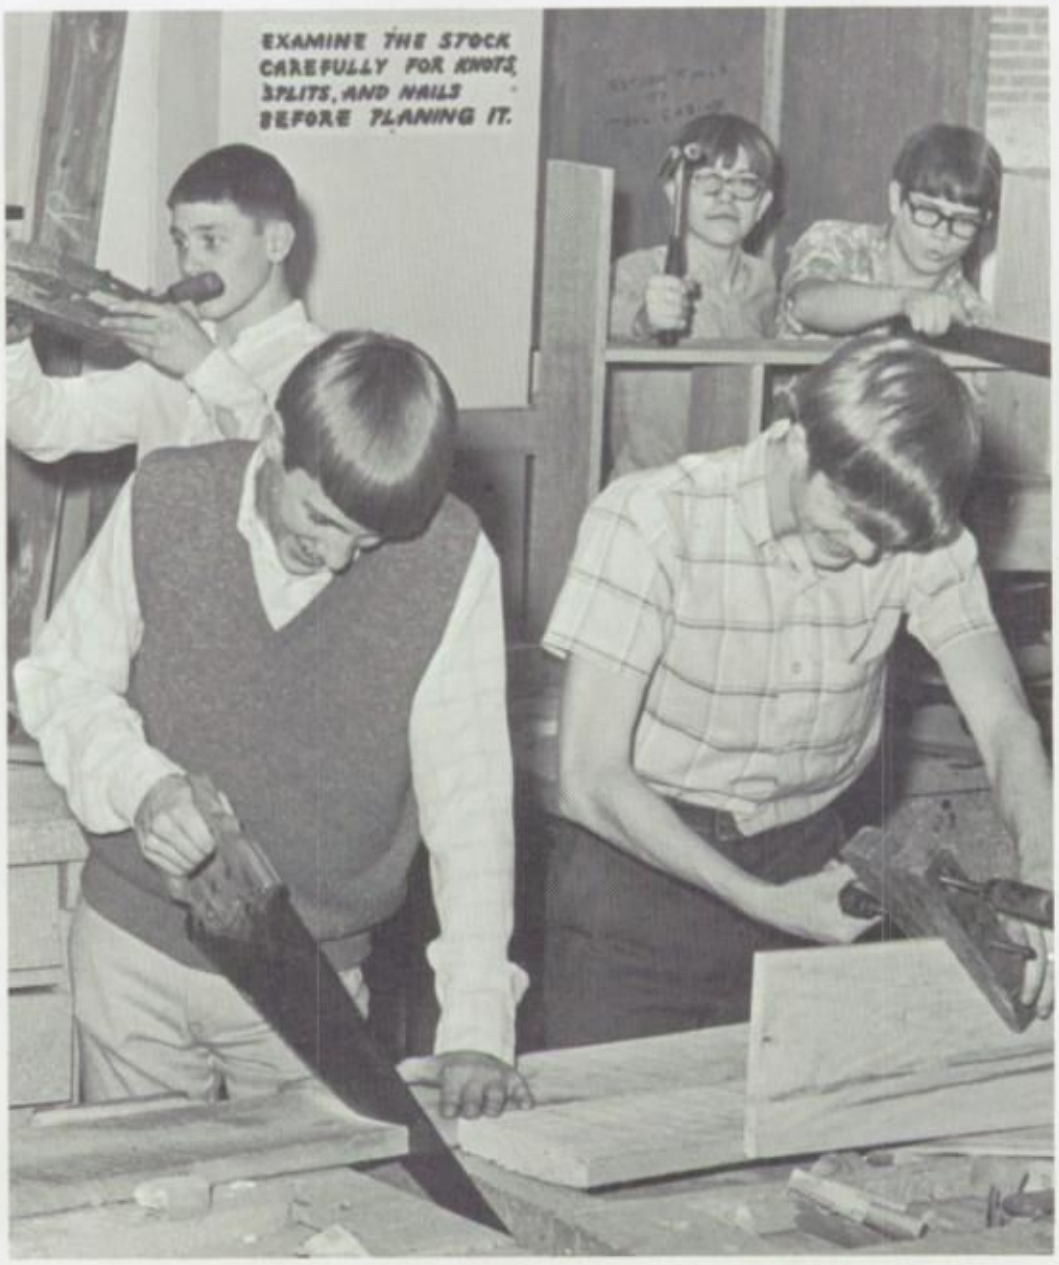
Roger Kleeman, Senior, designed this walnut stereo cabinet and applied his woodworking skill under the instruction of Mr. Henry.

Mark Buntin, Senior, steadies the torch as he welds a metal piece.

Concentrating on his work in Mechanical Drawing is Sophomore Mike Fuchs.

The boys in this electronics class experiment with their electrical equipment.

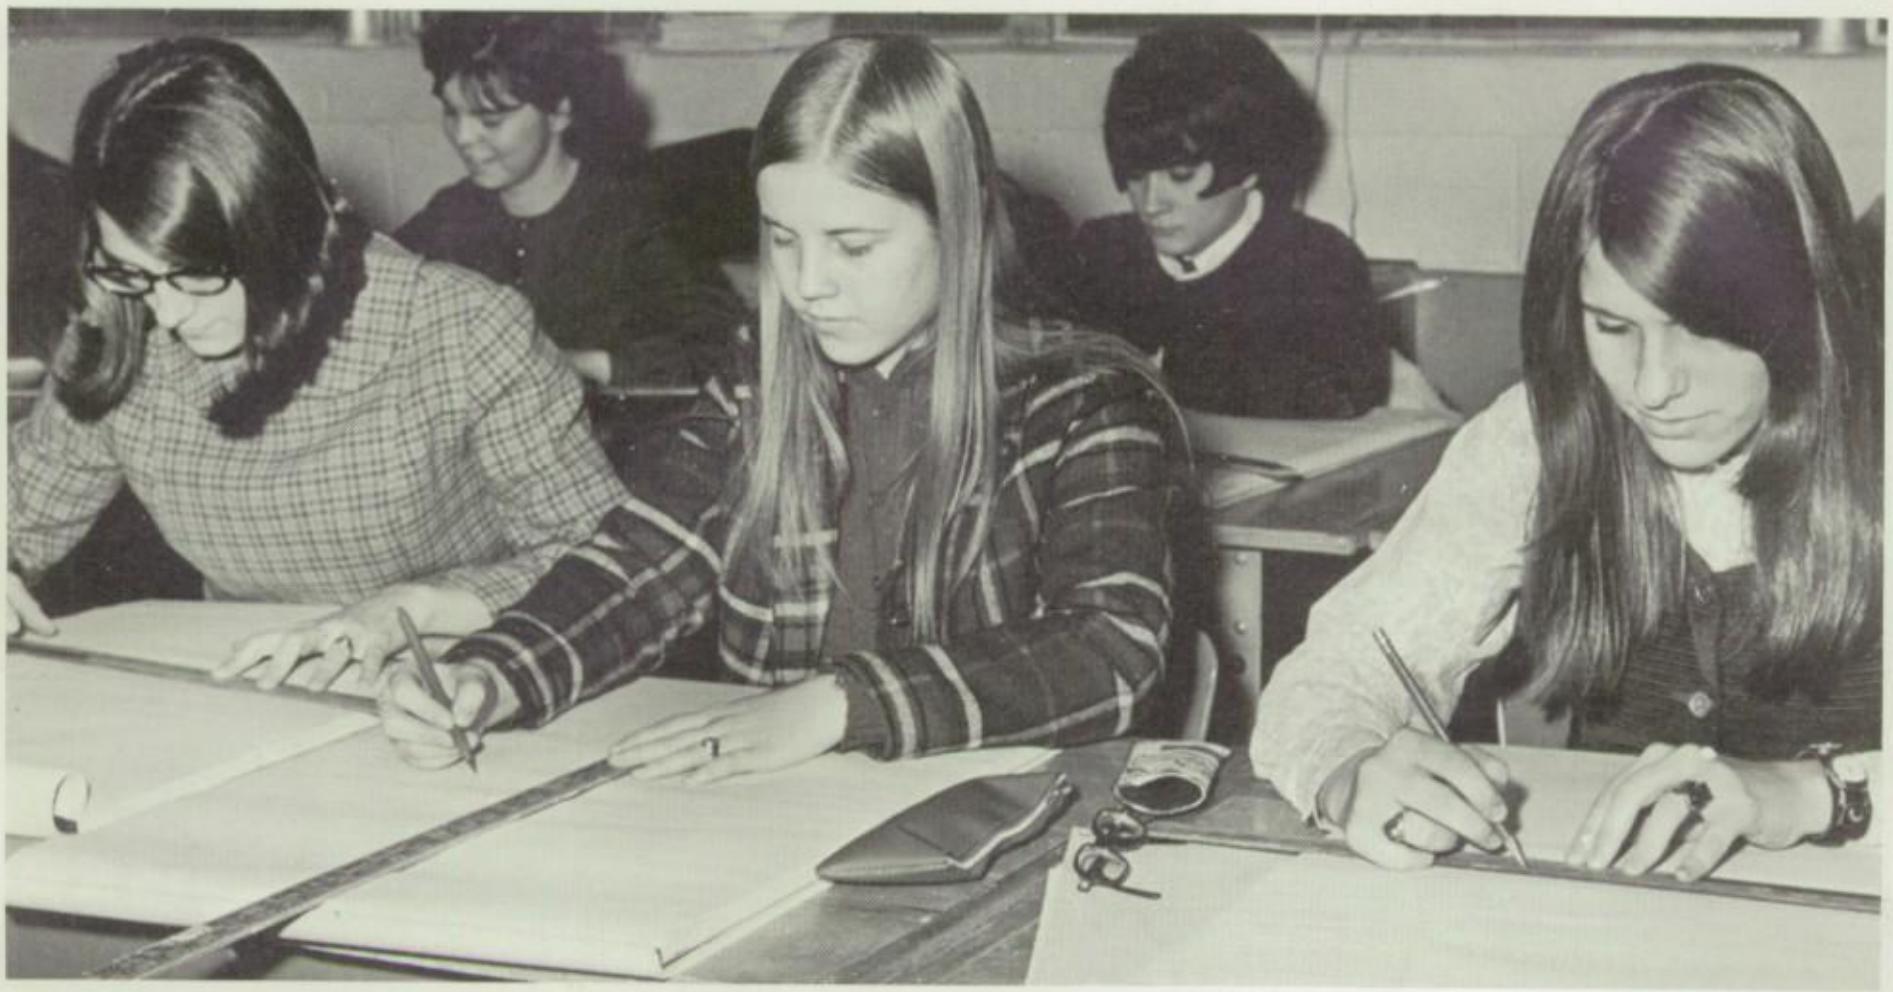




Freshmen Eric Wanhainen and Charles Hale are among the boys who work hard on their woodworking projects.

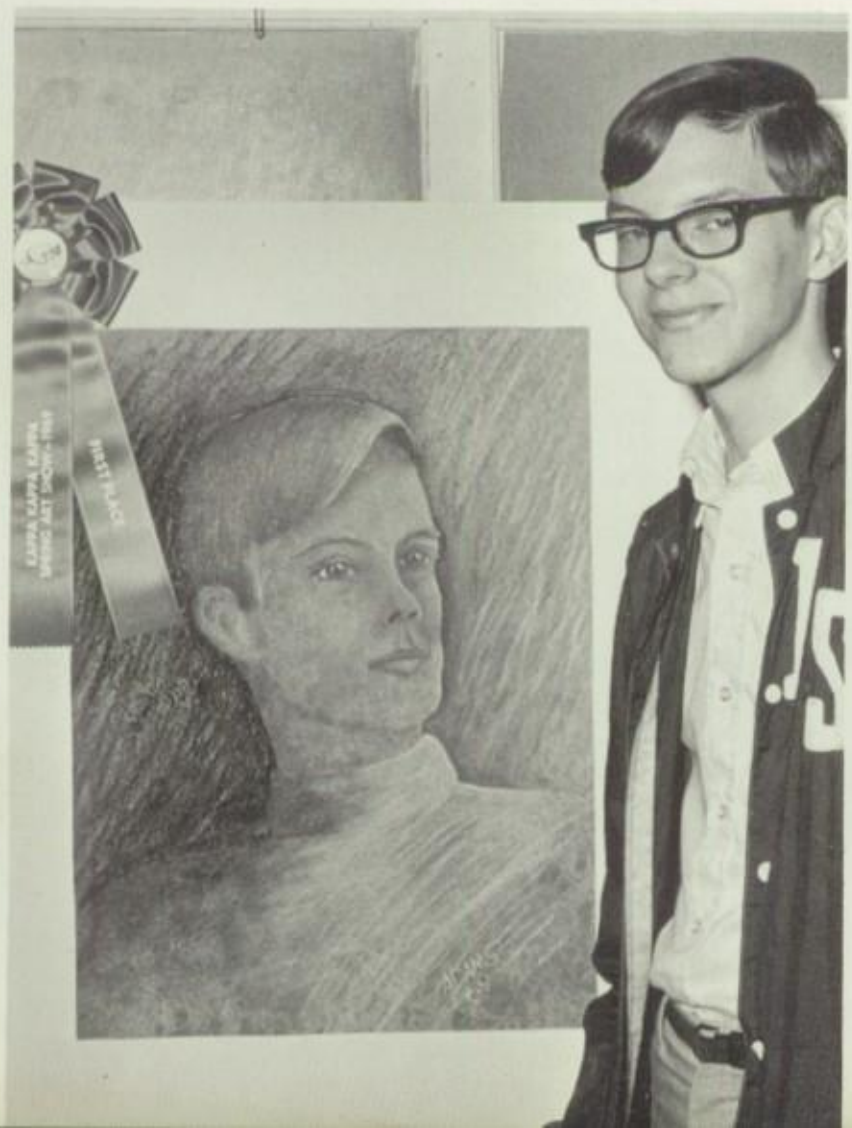
Art. Dept.

Artists Seek Original Expression



Diane Dauby, Ardella Smith, and Alice Damin work on perspective drawing in their art class with Mr. Loge.

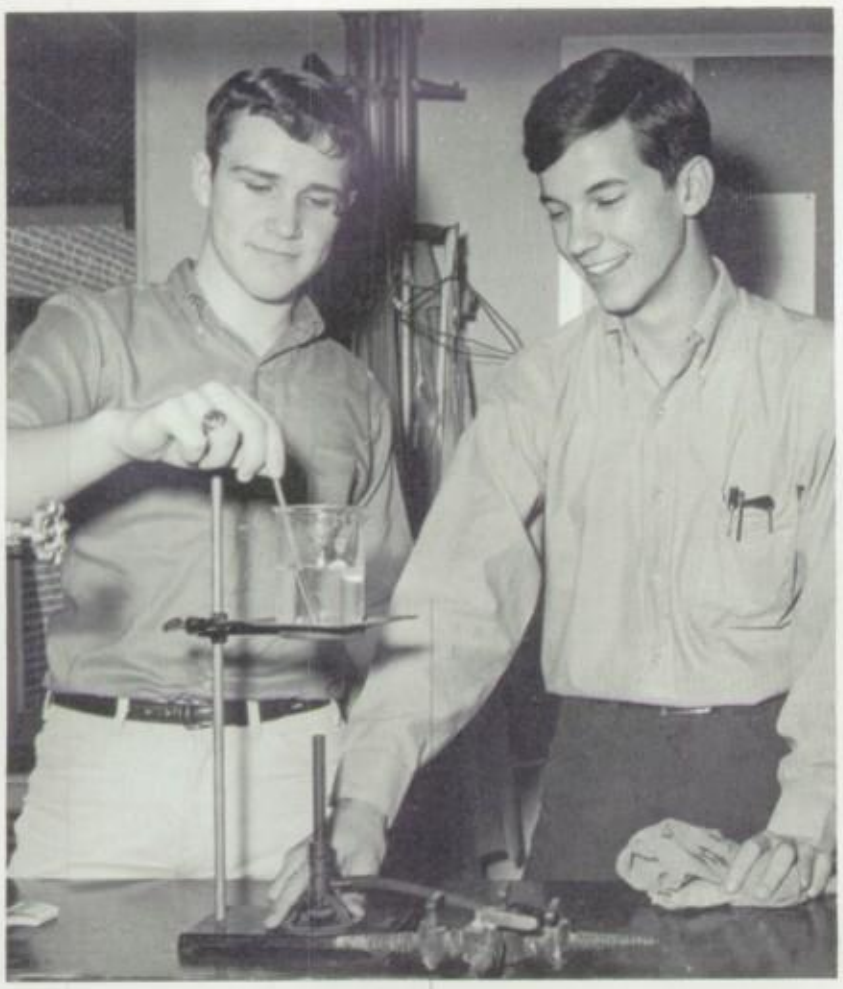
Jim Adams' portrait of himself won a first place ribbon in the Art Display.



James Faulkenburg painted the Marksman Inn, which the art students did during the Christmas season.

Science Dept.

Science Explores Wonders of the World



Parvin Price, Jr, and Denny Nugent, Jr, seem to be having lots of fun with their chemistry lab experiment.

English Dept.

Themes Emphasized

Tell City High School's English Dept. received a rating of 3.3 in the recent North Central evaluation which was conducted this year. A 4 rating was perfect.

The school's program offers four years of English, of which three years are required for graduation.

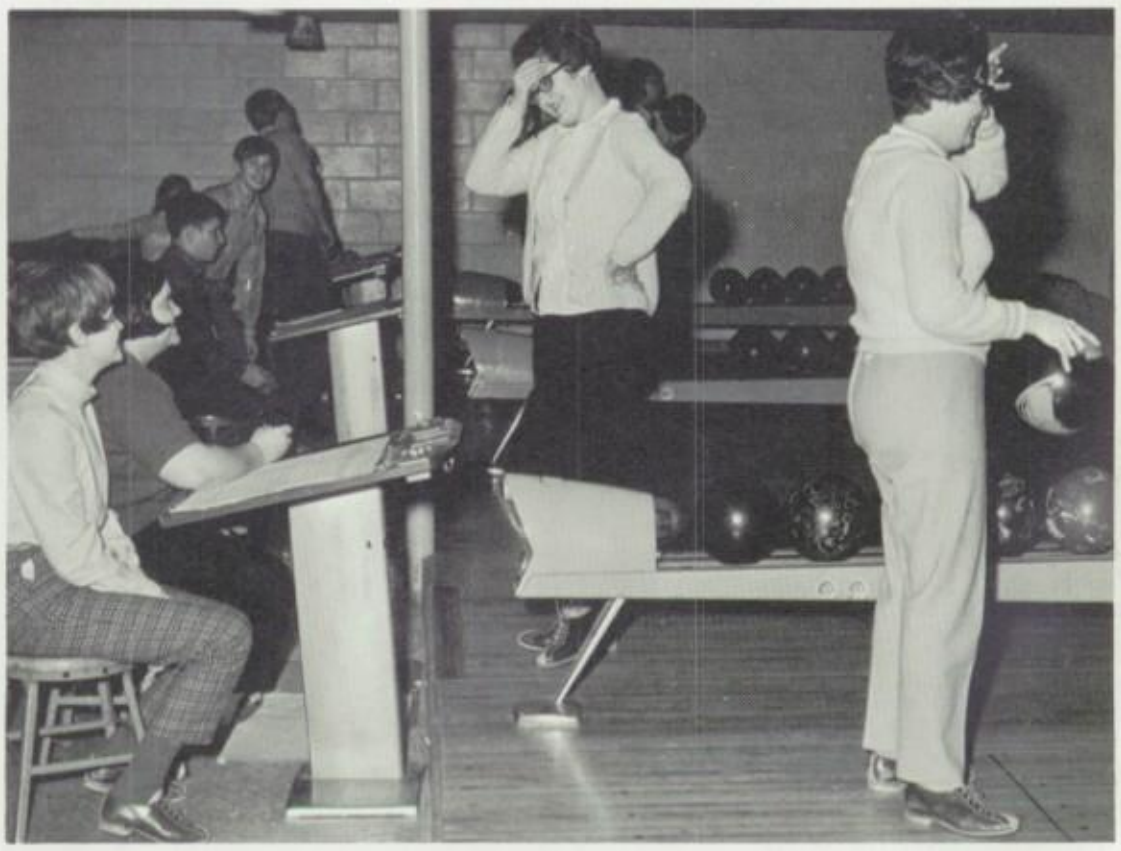
Freshman English consists in learning the basic rules of grammar with an essay each week to put practical knowledge to use.

Sophomore English concentrates on the parts of speech while the literature devotes intense study to the short story, poetry, and theme development.

Junior English devotes much time to the study of the novel and numerous American authors.

For the college bound student, Senior English, literature, and composition provide a comprehensive background for later studies in these fields. In composition, the student is taught to express himself and communicate with the written word. Senior English, which is taught by Miss Rachel Mooney, pictured below, is primarily concerned with the theme and inner meaning of a story than a plot.

Faculty and Administration



SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS are (l-r): Dr. Fred Smith, Mr. Victor Kress, and Mr. Ross.

School Board Regulates Policy

On November 5-8, Tell City High School received an eleven man North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges evaluation team. The evaluation is made in each member school system every seven years.

The team, which was presented to the student body in a convocation, consisted of principals, assistant principals, and teachers from southern Indiana.

The evaluation team covered all phases of secondary school life including the guidance department, office staff, and janitorial services. Team members attended classes several times during the course of their visit and made recommendations for improvements. Students were also questioned in order for the committee members to get a real picture of life at T.C.H.S.

Tell City received a very high rating from the evaluation, but the administration stated that it will strive to make improvements where recommendations were made.
